

Diversity Visiting Student Sub-Internship Program

For 4th year medical students interested in surgery. The program will be offered to eligible students between July and October 2021.

Program Description

The Diversity Visiting Student Internship Program is a funded program designed to give students with a diverse background the experience of rotating as a surgical

Intern at Weill Cornell Medicine – Department of Surgery.

Students will be assigned to a surgical team of their preference and will function in the role of a surgical intern. Students will also be required to attend all simulation, teaching, and conferences with the house staff. Students will be assigned to a resident mentor and have the opportunity to meet one-on-one with the General Surgery Program leadership.

Who Should Apply?

The program is open to applicants who belong to groups that are recognized as historically underrepresented in the health profession including: African American, Latinx, Native

American, Native Hawaiian, mainland Puerto Rican, or otherwise underrepresented from a social, economic, or educational perspective. Clerkships are four weeks in duration and are available to students who can meet the requirements of Weill Cornell Medical College.

Application Requirements

Please submit two letters of recommendation, curriculum vitae, and brief personal statement to LeShawn Taylor. All applicants also are required to apply via VSAS.

- Application deadline is July 15th, 2021
- An additional $1,500 stipend will be provided
- Please submit your application materials and forward any questions to:
LeShawn Taylor | lrt9001@med.cornell.edu